CMB168 Citizenship in the Community (2026 version)

A nation is a patchwork of communities that differ from each other and may be governed differently. But regardless of how local communities differ, they all have one point in common: In the United States, local government means self-government. Good citizens help to make decisions about their community through their elected local officials.

CMB149 Entrepreneurship, Salesmanship

By earning the Entrepreneurship merit badge, Scouts will learn about identifying opportunities, creating and evaluating business ideas, and exploring the feasibility (how doable it is) of an idea for a new business. They will also have the chance to fit everything together as they start and run their own business ventures.

By studying salesmanship, Scouts can learn self-confidence, motivation, friendliness, and the persistence necessary to overcome obstacles and solve problems. Sales can offer a challenging and rewarding career for those who enjoy interacting with people from all walks of life.

3. Identify and interview an individual who has started a business. Learn about this person's educational background, early work experiences, where the idea for the business came from, and what was involved in starting the business. Find out how the entrepreneur raised the capital (money) to start the business, examples of successes and challenges faced, and how the business is currently doing (if applicable).

4. Discuss with your counselor what you have learned.

Think of as many ideas for a business as you can, and write them down. From your list, select three ideas you believe represent the best opportunities. Choose one of these and explain to your counselor why you selected it and why you feel it can be successful.

5. Create a written business plan for your idea that includes all of the following: (see workbook for details <http://usscouts.org/usscouts/mb/mb134.asp>)

Salesmanship

<https://www.scouting.org/merit-badges/salesmanship/>

3. Write and present a sales plan for a product and a sales territory assigned by your counselor.

6. Do ONE of the following:

a. Interview a person and learn the following:

(see work book for details <http://usscouts.org/usscouts/mb/mb099.asp>)

b. Interview a retail store owner and learn the following:

(see work book for details <http://usscouts.org/usscouts/mb/mb099.asp>)

7. Investigate and report on career opportunities in sales, then do the following:

a. Prepare a written statement of your qualifications and experience. Include relevant classes you have taken in school and merit badges you have earned.

b. Discuss with your counselor what education, experience, or training you should obtain so you are prepared to serve in a sales position.

CMB167 Fingerprinting & Traffic Safety

Fingerprinting

In earning the Fingerprinting merit badge, Scouts will learn about and use an important technique that is used by law enforcement officers, along with other materials like matching dental records and DNA sampling, to help identify amnesia victims, missing persons, abducted children, and others.

Traffic Safety

Staying safe in traffic wherever you live is getting more difficult all the time, as more and more people take to the road. Earning the Traffic Safety merit badge and will give Scouts some crucial tools to stay safer, when driving a car on a highway, riding a bike across town, or jogging across a busy street.

CMB171 First Aid (2025 version)

First aid-caring for injured or ill persons until they can receive professional medical care-is an important skill for every Scout. With some knowledge of first aid, a Scout can provide immediate care and help to someone who is hurt or who becomes ill. First aid can help prevent infection and serious loss of blood. It could even save a limb or a life.

9:30-3:30 PM

Instructor: Dana Wingert

CMB115 Journalism

One thing is for sure about journalism: It is never boring. For a reporter, almost every day is different from the last. One day you might interview the mayor of the city, the next day report on a car accident, and the day after that preview a new movie.

CMB119 Photography

Beyond capturing family memories, photography offers a chance to be creative. Many photographers use photography to express their creativity, using lighting, composition, depth, color, and content to make their photographs into more than snapshots. Good photographs tell us about a person, a news event, a product, a place, a scientific breakthrough, an endangered animal, or a time in history.
