Packing Information

What Keeps You Warm?

You keep you warm. Your body produces all the heat that you need. Your clothing needs to be designed to hold in the heat that you need to feel comfortable under all conditions we might encounter. Our clothing needs to be loose and layered so that we might regulate our comfort level during various activities. Our clothing should never restrict blood circulation as that is the conduit which takes heat from the core of the body and distributes it to the extremities.

COLD

C= CLEAN

Keep yourself and your clothes CLEAN! Dirt and body oils which build up on clothing destroys its insulation properties.

O= OVERHEATING

Avoid OVERHEATING! Wear clothing so that you might maintain an even body temperature. Stay comfortably cool.

L= LAYERS

Wear clothes loose and in LAYERS!

D= DRY

Keep DRY! Wet clothing removes body heat 240 times faster than dry clothing. Keep Dry!

Personal Equipment List

When packing for cold weather outings consider each part of the body. Insulating clothing should be insulated with man-made fibers such as Thinsulate or made from Polar Fleece (polypropylene) or Wool, as these materials will retain some insulating value even when wet.
