*Units will pay a fee per participant (not including instructors or safety officers). If the total amount per group is below the minimum fee amount, the unit will pay the minimum fee. If the total amount is over the maximum fee amount, the unit will pay the maximum fee. Units are responsible for providing qualified supervision, but may seek assistance in finding volunteers by contacting our committees at aquatics@broadcreekbsa.org, copeandclimbing@broadcreekbsa.org, or shootingsports@broadcreekbsa.org.

Units will receive a set number of rounds per shooter (50 rounds for rifle, 25 rounds for shotgun). If the number of shooters is below what amounts to the minimum fee, the unit will receive the number of rounds equal to what a unit meeting the minimum fee would receive. If the number of shooters is above what amounts to the maximum fee, the unit will receive the number of rounds equal to what a unit meeting the maximum fee would receive (1250 rounds for rifle, 625 rounds for shotgun), with the opportunity to purchase tickets on-site or through the reservation system to receive additional ammo at-cost.
