

Scouting For Food 2019 Ribbon Break Down

WHITE Pack or Troop collecting an average of 20-39 food items/pounds per active Scout will earn the White Ribbon.

RED Pack or Troop collecting an average of 40-59 food items/pounds per active Scout will earn the Red Ribbon.

BLUE Pack or Troop collecting an average of 60 or more food items/pounds per active Scout will earn the Blue Ribbon.

GOLD One Pack and one Troop per district and one Crew within the IWC we be eligible to receive a Gold Ribbon.

To be eligible for this award, each district must have a combination of 10 Units consisting of Pack and/or Troops participating will be eligible for this award. Crews must have 75% or greater IWC participation in 2018 SFF

One Pack and one Troop from each district that meet the above criteria and collects the largest amount of food over 1000 units/pounds will be eligible to receive this award

R W B The Unit that collected the largest amount and largest average per Scout will receive the Patriot Ribbon

In your Unit Questions you may have.....

Do I have to wear my uniform?... YES, This is a BSA event.

How do I count multi-pack items.... Count as individual.(ie 1 pack of 4 will be counted as 4)

How do I determine the number of Active Scouts in my Unit? This is not the number of Scouts registered. It is the number of Scouts that "show up" to the meetings and who actively participate in the Scouting program.

How do I determine the average number of food items in a Pack or Troop?
Take the total number of food items/pounds collected divided by the number of active Scouts in your Unit

Can I share a Tally form with another Unit?.. "NO" each Unit must submit a tally form. The Units working together will determine the break down of the collected food.

What if siblings and or Girl Scouts are helping? Sibling and family members will be counted as adults on the tally form. Girl Scouts helping will be counted as Scouts on the tally form.

Why do I need to keep track of volunteer hours? Scouts need service hours for advancements. Service hours should include bag note stuffing, bag distribution, and bag pick up. The hours are recorded in two places on the on the tally form. This information is collected and reported to "Project Good Turn America" at the National level in the name of IWC