Format - Think of a camp-wide day of fun stations and activities.

Cub Scouts will participate in dens or groups led by adults. There will be a variety of kid-friendly stations and activities around camp with things like teamwork games, scavenger hunts, and other hands-on outdoor fun. All Cub Scouts will begin at the same time and may start at any station they want, then move on to the next open station or wait on a preferred station to become available. This is not a race or a competition between packs; it is a fun outdoor event that will keep Cub Scouts entertained and engaged. And they may even accidentally learn something!

Scouts explore camp, build confidence, and enjoy a great day together.

Question is, which Pack or Group will have the most fun?

SCOUTING AMERICA

2026 Cub Scout Spring Camporee – Important Notes & Schedule

IMPORTANT NOTES:

Each pack needs to provide a volunteer leader(s) to help staff a station. This is easy and often pretty entertaining. Bring a folding chair, water, and a book to read during down time between groups. The stations are already planned and all of the materials will be provided. Volunteers will receive their station assignment a few days before the event. There is a mandatory meeting for station volunteers on Saturday morning at 8am at the lower field flag pole, so we can all be prepared and coordinated.

There will be clean running water and bathroom facilities.

Packs need to come with their completed parts 1 & 2 BSA consent form for all registered youth and adults present. They will also need their completed health forms as well.

REQUIRED GEAR FOR EACH SCOUT:

- Bag lunch to eat during the event
- Trail snacks are good for energy-this is an active day!
- Change of clothes and extra socks in a small trash bag
- Trash bag
- Closed-toe shoes for walking and playing
- A backpack to carry the above gear and any den gear below

REQUIRED GEAR FOR EACH GROUP

- At least one adult leader for each group
- Basic first aid kit for group
