

BALOO

Basic Adult Leader Outdoor Orientation

Do you want to take your Cub Scout Pack camping?

If so, then the Basic Adult Leader Outdoor Orientation (BALOO) training is a must take course. This is required training so your Cub Scouts can get a camping experience. For the Pack to go camping, your pack must have at least one Cub Leader complete BALOO training and attend the campout!

Prior to attending this training, each attendee must complete the online portion of the course. You can find it through your my.scouting.org account. After logging in, click Menu, My Training, Cub Scouts, Catalog, and scroll down to find the course. It takes about 45 minutes to complete.

When	Saturday September 23 - Sunday September 24 Check-in 8am at Camp Stidwell, Angell Campground (follow the signs from the parking lot) Opening and classes start about 9am Graduation about 11am Sunday
Where	Camp Stidwell in Sagle, Idaho
Cost	$25.00 (includes handouts, lunch and dinner on Saturday, and breakfast on Sunday)
Gear Needed	Tent with ground cloth, sleeping bag, sleeping pad/air mattress (optional), uniform, change of clothes, sleep attire, toiletry kit, Cub Scout 6 essentials (see Tiger, Wolf, Bear or Webelos handbook), COFFE MUG (very important), coat or jacket, hat, gloves, poncho or rain gear, pen/pencil, anything else needed for an overnight campout.

This will be a popular training, so please reserve your spot today! Register online at www.nwscouts.org. Also bring a screen shoot or training report showing you completed the online training so that you can get full credit for the training.
