What is Wood Badge?

Wood Badge is leadership training for adult Scouters. The course aims to grow leaders by teaching advanced leadership skills, and networking with fellow Scouters. Wood Badge has a combined classroom and practical outdoors-based phase followed by an application phase, also known as the ticket.

What kind of training is this?

This isn't just another knot tying or hard skills course. It's designed to help leaders lead. Whether you're an Eagle Scout, a new Den Leader, or an old hand, the course has much to offer to help enhance your leadership skillset.

Why should I go?

The cheeky answer is because you're reading this and might be interested. The longer answer: We teach our Scouts that Scouting is about training both character and leadership skills. This program is designed to help you grow as a leader to make the best program possible.

Full Program Days - All Dates Required

Welcome to Wood Badge, the ultimate leadership training program for the adult leaders of the Boy Scouts of America. Established in 1919 by Robert Baden-Powell, Wood Badge has been the training ground for hundreds of thousands of Scouters around the world.

Testimonials:

"Seriously, Wood Badge opened so many doors for me. I met many wonderful friends, and so many references to look to if I have any questions and problems. I am ever so glad I decided to take Wood Badge." Eagle, C1-635-17

"Attending Wood Badge was one of the best decisions of my life (other than asking my wife to marry me). The friendships were started and people I met have impacted me in ways that I would never have imagined. The cool thing is that more of this is to come as the years progress." Fox, C1-635-16

"For me it was building up a network of friends whom I can share my experiences with. I learned how others approach scouting so that I can take these ideas back to my units and share with the other leaders and scouts to build a better program." Eagle, C1-635-17

"You will get more out of the Wood Badge than you think." Beaver, Brownsea, 1919

How much time does this really take?

This is often the question we get as recruiters to the course. The short answer is the time commitment is the 2 weekends for the course and the time to work your ticket.

No really how much time does this really take?

Seriously, 2 weekends, plus the ticket.

What's a ticket?

The ticket develops the leader primarily for Scouting but the lessons translate across teams, families, and communities.

This is a self-directed portion of the program where you demonstrate mastery of the skills taught on course. A ticket counselor will be assigned to help you with this process. It can be completed in as little as a few months but a maximum of 18 months.

What if I don't have any scouting experience?

The course is designed to benefit you and your unit.
No service requirement or previous experience is needed.

Testimonials:

"Wood Badge has helped me extensively to communicate better both personally and professionally. It has also helped my Scouting by giving me better resources for educating, listening, and communicating with parents and Scouts and given me more people to reach out to for assistance than I ever imagined." Owl, C1-635-17

"I learned things that were helpful in both my personal and professional life. I've grown so much as a person and gained more confidence in advocating for myself and for things I'm passionate about." Antelope, C1-635-15

"I made a network of friends who are also resources and help to make me a better leader. The most fun I've ever had in training." Antelope, C1-635-18

"Wood Badge helped me to figure out who I am as a person and as a leader. It gave me the confidence and tools to help me be successful in our troop." Beaver, C1-635-18
