

College of Commissioner Science Workshop

Transatlantic Council – Doctorate of Commissioner Science Credit

Session Options:

- Friday, 27 February 2026, 18:00–22:00 CET
- Saturday, 28 February 2026, 09:00–13:00 CET

Course Overview

The virtual workshop, hosted by the Transatlantic Council, is designed for Commissioners seeking academic credit toward the Doctorate of Commissioner Science degree. Offered in two identical sessions to accommodate diverse schedules, the program delivers four advanced courses aligned with the College of Commissioner Science curriculum. Each course supports the development of strategic leadership, inclusive recruitment, and collaborative service delivery across Scouting units.

Participants are required to attend only one session. Completion of the workshop fulfills education requirements and contributes toward credit for the Doctorate of Commissioner Science, a recognition of excellence in commissioner service, leadership, and lifelong learning.

Instructional Format

Each virtual session includes four structured modules, each approximately 50 minutes in duration. The curriculum emphasizes practical application, reflective dialogue, and alignment with current standards of commissioner service.
